Participant Testimonial

"This program is such a game-changer. I thought I had myself figured out, but between the impactful sessions, my executive coach, and the honesty and transparency with my peer group, I have learned so much about myself - it was a reintroduction to the current me. I am forever grateful for the connections within my peer group and finding...women who I could relate to outside of my current day-to-day...Hands down would recommend to everyone looking to really launch and own their career."
